Product Specialist

About the role

NephroFlow is a process-oriented software platform for dialysis centers. Our software supports nephrologists and nurses at every step of the care process.

We are just getting started. Join us for the next chapter of our international growth and help us make our platform scalable, approachable, and an extraordinary experience for customers around the world.

As a product specialist, you will collaborate with the product definition and development team to continuously improve the product and identify new opportunities.

You will perform product demonstrations for customers, staff, and other stakeholders.

We're growing quickly, which means there's plenty of room for personal growth and new experiences. You'll have the creative freedom to make a real difference, grow in your craft and work with talented and motivated colleagues.

We're looking for people who are comfortable in dealing with lots of moving pieces; have exquisite attention to detail, and are comfortable learning new matters.

Relevant Experience

- Understanding of a dialysis centers inner workings.
- Basic knowledge on computers and software in general.
- Fluent in Dutch, English and French.
- Excellent communication skills and ability to work across multiple projects, align on goals, and deliverables.

Nice to have, but not essential

- Experience with the NephroFlow products.
- Experience working together with software development teams.
- Knowledge on project management.
- Knowledge on functional analysis.

We're eager to hear from you. Please feel free to include a cover letter and send us a few samples of your work. If you're interested please mail arne@nephroflow.com.
